

Nondiscrimination Statement

Yale University respects, protects and supports each patient's rights, recognizing that each patient is an individual with unique needs. We strive to provide considerate, respectful care to every patient. We do not restrict, limit or deny care or visitation on the basis of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, physical or mental disability, citizenship status or any other basis protected by law.

Yale clinical sites comply with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Section 1557 rule of the Affordable Care Act, which prohibits discrimination in health care.

Language Assistance Statement

All patient and visitors at Yale clinical sites have the right to receive information in a language they understand, free of charge. Yale University complies with the Department of Health and Human Services' Section 1557 rule of the Affordable Care Act which sets guidelines about language assistance for people with limited English proficiency (LEP), or those who are deaf or hard-of hearing, and takes reasonable steps to provide meaningful access to people with limited English proficiency who may require assistance within the health system.
